

OPENING THE HEART

a retreat with Pir Zia Inayat-Khan

What would it mean to think, speak, and act from the heart? How would such a reorientation affect our way of life, our relationships, our perceptions and emotions, and our identity itself? In this retreat, through conscious breath, sacred sound and movement, prayer, and meditation, we will explore the transformational implications of focalizing consciousness in the heart.

Pir Zia Inayat-Khan is the spiritual leader of the Sufi Order International, a mystical and ecumenical fellowship rooted in the visionary legacy of his grandfather, Hazrat Pir-o-Murshid Inayat Khan. Pir Zia is founder of Seven Pillars House of Wisdom and President of the Suluk Academy for esoteric studies. He holds a doctoral degree in religion from Duke University, is a recipient of the U Thant Peace Award, and is a Lindisfarne Fellow.
